ServiceNow® Legal Knowledge Management

Legal operations teams are often responsible for managing risk across the entire organization, often times while facing budget and resource constraints. In order to evolve into a strategic business driver, legal teams will need to rely increasingly on technology to automate and simplify how employees and the business get the legal help and support they need.

Powered by the Now Platform, ServiceNow Legal Knowledge Management boosts employee and legal productivity by enabling businesses to scale the sharing, capturing, and management of important legal information, policies, and processes across the organization. Both within the legal department and the enterprise departments they support.

Deflect common legal questions with consumer-grade self-service experiences

Without a centralized destination to interact with legal departments, employees often route all their legal inquiries – no matter how simple or complex – through email, phone, and other unstructured methods. This leaves in house legal practitioners overwhelmed with repetitive inquiries, preventing them to focus on the critical affairs that impact the business the most.

With ServiceNow Employee Center, employees can easily search to locate AI-powered legal knowledge articles from a single, unified portal. Intelligent search experiences combined with Legal Knowledge Management, resolves and deflects the most common legal questions from your employees. A quick chat with Virtual Agent about legal approved slides can immediately surface the content a marketing specialist needs. An employee looking to book travel can easily self-service an article on the latest travel policies and guidelines. Legal Knowledge Management deflects common requests to help your teams focus more on enabling strategic business execution.

Eliminate back-office knowledge drain to boost legal efficiency

According to EY, general counsels expect workloads to increase by 25% despite headcount only growing by 3% over the next 3 years. However, lagging adoption of modern legal technology means legal teams are unable to pass along tribal knowledge and critical mindshare. When practitioners depart, important internal information on key processes also leave with them. These inefficient handoffs and potentially detrimental knowledge-drain hinders your legal teams from operating at maximum efficiency.

With ServiceNow Legal Knowledge Management, document processes and procedures to ensure service delivery is consistent and accurate across your legal organization. For example, complex matters like a visa application will require multiple steps and a defined set of requirements. Contracts over certain deal sizes might also have special procedures that legal practitioners must enact. With a quick search, your legal teams can find internal facing knowledge articles that walk them through each procedure – ensuring legal affairs are handled accurately, efficiently, and with care. With ServiceNow, it’s time to streamline your approach to legal service delivery with frictionless self-service experiences.
